

Antal Szerb:

Oliver VII

Translated from Hungarian by Len Rix

The restless ruler of an obscure Central European state plots a coup against himself and moves to Venice in search of 'real' experience. There he falls in with a team of con-men and ends up, to his own surprise, impersonating himself. His journey through successive levels of illusion and reality teaches him much about the world, about his own nature and the paradoxes of the human condition.

„A writer of immense subtlety and generosity, with an uncommonly light touch which masks its own atristry. His novels transform farce into poetry, comic melancholy into a kind of the great European writers.(Ali Smith)

„Antal Szerb belongs with the master novelists of the twentieth century.”

(Paul Bailey The Independent)

„Szerb is a master novelist, a comedian whose powers transcend time and language, and a playful, sophisticated intellect.”

(Nicholas Lezard The Guardian)

AVAILABLE FROM:

Hungarian Book Agency

CONTACT US BY PHONE: 0191 386 5757

CONTACT US BY EMAIL: orders@hungarian-books.co.uk

CONTACT US BY POST:

P.O.Box 1956

DURHAM

DH1 2GA

PRICE: £7.99 + £2.95 p&p